

What does my ACT/SAT score mean?

Typical ACT/SAT composite scores of admitted students:

ACT: SAT: GPA:	Non Competitive	Cleveland State University Texas Southern University University of Akron
ACT: >18 SAT: >870 (SAT is Critical Reading and Math only) GPA: >2.0	Minimally Selective	Boise State University of Alaska Johnson and Wales University Portland State University Tennessee State University
ACT: > 20 SAT: >1000 (SAT is Critical Reading and Math only) GPA: >2.5	Moderately Selective	ASU San Diego State University UNLV Oregon State University Loyola Marymount Cal State – Long Beach Kansas State University Baylor University Auburn University Duquesne University LeMoyne College
ACT: > 23 SAT: > 1200 (SAT is Critical Reading and Math only) GPA: > 3.0	Very Selective	Creighton Gonzaga San Francisco State Lewis and Clark University of Southern California University of Colorado Northwestern University of Virginia Boston College Florida State University
ACT: >27 SAT: > 1200 (SAT is Critical Reading and Math only) GPA: > 3.6	Most Selective	Harvard Stanford Air Force Academy Swarthmore Brown Georgetown Notre Dame UCLA MIT University of California – Berkeley Northwestern Pepperdine Princeton Williams Brown University of Michigan

For more admissions information: www.campustours.com/admissions